

Marstrand's projection theorem; extensions and connections

Pertti Mattila

University of Helsinki

Marstrand proved in 1954 that a Borel set in the plane projects into a set of positive length in almost all directions if its Hausdorff dimension is bigger than one, otherwise the dimension is preserved under almost all projections. I shall give a survey of some extensions and related results as well as connections to the Kakeya problem.

---